In the wee hours of Friday morning, K-9 Officer Lt. Jimmy Esposito and Dax discovered a large suitcase containing approximately 98.5 pounds of marijuana on a chartered bus, Sheriff Steve Garber reports.

"While on patrol, Lt. Esposito stopped a Tornado Bus Line charter at mile marker 16 on Interstate 10 for a traffic violation. Lt. Esposito received consent from the bus driver to search the luggage compartment. Dax alerted on a large black suitcase containing approximately 98.5 pounds of suspected marijuana," Garber's report said.

The estimated street value of the marijuana was set at $160,000, by Hancock County Narcotics Division director Major Matt Karl.

"An investigation led to Victorino Benitez-Arce, 27, Standfield, North Carolina, as being the owner of the suitcase. Also seized from Benitez-Arce was $753 in U.S. currency. It was also revealed that the suspect was en route from Houston to North Carolina," the report said.

Further investigation also revealed that Benitez-Arce was an illegal alien

Sewer board under siege

Residents in Pearlington
question delays

BY BENNIE

Staff Writer

A citizen's watch group voiced its discontent with the workings of the Pearlington Water and Sewer Board at Thursday's meeting. One of the main complaints was the inability to obtain records from the district. Tony Dixon said he had been unable to find any record of the minutes of the meetings from the year 2000 to the present. Dixon said he had most of the minutes from January 1998 through May of 2000. He asked the board to supply the missing minutes.

"There should be a complete set of public documents where we can access them," Dixon said.

Board member Ronnie Cuevas told Dixon that before the past year the board had met irregularly, no more than three to four times a year. When Dixon

"He walked into the vehicle, and went through the front windshield," Gazzo said.

Hancock School Board accepts District Five member's resignation, debate next course of action

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

District Five Hancock County School Board member Larry Seal may have resigned, but his presence was still strongly felt by his former colleagues Thursday night during their first meeting since his departure.

Seal tendered his resignation last month, effective Feb. 28, after being jailed in Pearl River County in January on charges of false pretense in connection with the alleged improper sale of insurance coverage to two people.

Board members accepted Seal's resignation Thursday, but disagreed over how quickly he should be replaced. District One's Packer Ladner and District Four's Peggy Ladner argued heatedly with each other.

Packer Ladner said the board should take the entire 60 days state law allows to choose a replacement, while Peggy Ladner contended the board should interview candidates that evening. Three people who had voiced interest in the post — including Pattie Stennett, Melissa Burge and former board member Lynette Nacaise — were in the audience Thursday.

"I'm not going to sit here and vote on somebody tonight to replace somebody, when I don't know any of these three ladies ...," Packer Ladner said. "We've been going two months without (a District Five board member), and we can go another two months."

"We don't want to rush into this, that's all I'm saying."

Peggy Ladner countered that the people of District Five have already gone without representation since January, saying it would be wrong to let them go another two months without it.

"We do have time, but I'd like to see us get started on the "process," board President Morgan Ladner said.

Ultimately, the board held the matter until the end of the open session, then interviewed all three candidates, but did not choose Seal's successor.

Peggy Ladner said Friday that "We will likely make our decision at the board's next meeting on March 15. ... I will call for a vote."

In the meantime, she said, anyone who's interested in serving in the District Five seat should contact Morgan Ladner at 255-0081. The candidate selected will serve only until the next general election, not until the end of Seal's unexpired term.

In more Larry Seal-related action Thursday, board members addressed his public accusations that Peggy Ladner had acted improperly by discussing executive session business outside of the actual executive session.

Board members and Superintendent David Kopf determined that since the topic of discussion — the ongoing debate over the school system's dress code policy — shouldn't have been discussed at all during the executive session, Ladner was not speaking out of turn.

"As far as I know," Kopf said, "Mr. Seal's accusations are not true. My research and from what I've seen and heard, these accusations of improprieties were unfounded."

In other action Thursday: • The board discussed the district's proposed five-year plan. Peggy Ladner asked Kopf to get with school administrators to flesh out the plan, because she felt it was too "vague."

Kopf said the plan is a work in progress, and asked board members to take some time to write down their suggestions for improving it and submit them to him at the next meeting.

• Ladner said that at the next meeting, the board will seek community input on "reclaiming" or re-annexation a portion of Hancock County at Flat Top that is currently zoned as part of the Picayune School District.

Wanted felon nabbed in Waveland

ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

Waveland Police working in conjunction with the Warrant Officer John Saltarelli of the U.S. Marshall's office apprehended a wanted felon, while looking for a unrelated person wanted by Waveland Police, according to Chief Jimmy Varnell.

Varnell said, "Daniel V.

Garcia, 49, on March 2, as he was wanted by the U.S. Marshall's Office in New Orleans for aggravated battery."

Daniel V. Garcia had served five years in the Louisiana Department of Corrections and was on probation and absconded and has been wanted since 1999. The Federal Marshall's office in New Orleans had adopted the case and tips led them to Garcia. He was living in a barn behind a feed store in Lakeshore, Varnell's report said.

Daniel Garcia was booked at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility and is awaiting extradition back to Louisiana. Warrant Officer Saltarelli also arrested Raymond M. Garcia, 38, of Bay St. Louis, who was not related to the above suspect for contempt of Court in Waveland.

Raymond Garcia was charged with contempt of court and place in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility with a bond $900 and has an initial court appearance scheduled for March 10, Varnell said.

Two arrested in Leetown for alleged marijuana trafficking

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

Two Leetown residents have been arrested and charged with possession with intent to deliver and cultivate marijuana, Sheriff Steve Garber reports.

"This past weekend the Narcotics Division received information from the general public of possible marijuana activity at a Road 228 residence in Leetown. With this information and others gathered by agents, a search warrant was secured," director Major Matt Karl said Tuesday.

"Donald Lee, 36, and Troy Lee, 22, both of Road 228, were arrested on February 28. Both face charges of one count of possession with intent to deliver marijuana and once count of cultivation of marijuana," Karl said.

Agents and officers found approximately two and half ounces of marijuana, marijuana seeds, numerous pills (prescription drugs) in unlabeled containers, paraphernalia and drug residue at the residence, Karl, who is handling the investigation, said.

Donald Lee posted a $20,000 bond, while Troy Lee's bond was set at $20,000, but Picayune has a hold placed on him for a probation violation, Karl said.

Participating in the search warrant and arrest included, Karl, Agent Lt. Clifton (Bubba) Malley, Agent Chris Russell, Agent Abe Long, Investigator Matt Barnett, Investigator John Luther, Deputy Lt. Phillip Pavolini and Deputy Charles LaFontaine.

"To report drug, or possible drug activities, in addition to any criminal activities in your area, contact the Investigation Divisions at 228-467-1496, or the sheriff's office at 228-467-5101, or 601-798-8555, (Picayune exchange)," Garber reports.

Garber emphasized, "All information will be kept confidential."

We want your blood in Waveland

It is one of those times again when the blood supply on hand by the American Red Cross is at a critical point.

One of the problems the Red Cross reports is that blood donors have not yet been able to rebound from the holiday shortages, colds and flu during January and Mardi Gras.

With temperatures being like a yo-yo, probably caused more colds and flu strike the area.

To help alleviate the shortage, there will be a blood drawing conducted by the American Red Cross at the Bourgeois-Ray-Stieffel American Legion Post 77, Coleman Avenue on Wednesday, March 9, from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The following week, on March 17, another blood drive will be held at Hancock High School, Stennis. Drive off Highway 603. This drive will be from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Both blood drives are open to the general public and all types of blood is needed.

To give blood, a person must be 17 years old or older, weight at least 110 pounds, have not donated blood in the past 56 days, and be in good health.

For more information, call the American Red Cross at 228-896-2217.

Reservations are now being taken at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce for the Annual Awards Gala scheduled for Friday evening, beginning at 6 p.m., April 8.

The big annual event is sponsored by the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau will be held in the Cypress Cove Ballroom of the Casino Magic Hotel, Bay St. Louis.

Among those honored will include: Business of the Year, Tourism & Business of the Year, Industry of the Year & Award of Excellence, and Outstanding Citizens, & Citizen of the Year.

Through March 11, nominations are being taken for Outstanding Citizens at the chamber's office.

By the way, net proceeds from the Annual Awards Gala will benefit the Hancock County Chamber's Education Endowment, a fund of the Gulf Coast Community Foundation.

Recognize ramps to opportunity

I've joined U.S. Senators Saxby Chambliss and Johnny Isakson of Georgia before December 31, 2004. But Congress' schedule simply didn't allow time for passage of this legislation by year's end, and it died.

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

Interstate 14. The new route would go from Georgia, through Alabama, and across Mississippi via Waynesboro, Brookhaven and Natchez. As you may recall, we introduced similar legislation last fall calling for a preliminary I-14 study to be completed

Like last year's bill, the new legislation calls for the Secretary of Transportation to study and report to Congress the steps and estimated funding necessary to designate and construct I-14. As in the previous legislation, it calls on the Secretary to complete this within the calendar year.

I support I-14 because of what it can do for Mississippi's job growth.

Interstate highways are one of the basic foundations for winning new jobs.

Every time I get involved with an economic development project, I find that CEO's ask the same things about perspective sites: Where is the nearest airport? How are the schools? Is there a trained or trainable workforce?

Where is the nearest interstate?

Where there are interstate highways, new hope follows. In fact, I-14 is named after the historic 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, passed during the emancipation period of the 1860s. The amendment was intended to bring economic parity to freed African-American slaves. Yet 140 years later, some predominantly minority regions of our nation still lag economically.

True to its namesake, I-14 would traverse some of the most job-hungry parts of central Alabama, bringing new hope to that challenged region in much the same way the new Interstate-69, now under construction, will do for the Mississippi Delta.

Unlike I-14's route through Alabama, I-14's route through Mississippi

Consumers: beware of credit card scams

One would think with so many people in debt with credit cards these days that the banks and card companies would not have to resort to under-handed schemes to make money. Unfortunately, this is not the case and even a responsible consumer such as myself can fall victim to the businesses that stand to profit from credit card interest rates and fees.

I have to admit that it looks like a lot of forethought goes on before the credit card backers put their plans into action. It all began when I was offered zero percent interest rate for eight months on all transfers from other credit cards and even told that I could transfer the balance I owed on my car. This sounded wonderful. I could pay off my car sooner and save a bundle on interest. This was the first step in their fiendish plan. I transferred the amount that I owed on my car to the credit card and divided this amount by the number of months that I had to pay it off before I would have to begin paying interest. Each month I put that amount into a savings account just as if I were making a payment. I was sent a bill for the minimum amount to be paid each month, which was $10, and I promptly paid this amount the day I received the bill every month. This continued for months.

Around the 18th of December, I began to wonder when my monthly bill would come in since it seemed like about the time for it to arrive. I had planned to call the bank to see if a bill was sent, but my time was heavily taxed as is the case with many of us during the Christmas season, and I didn't get the chance to call them. Little did I know that this was exactly what the bank was counting on. A few days after I noticed that I hadn't received a bill, it finally came: When I opened the statement expecting my usual $10 minimum payment, I was shocked to find that not only was the minimum payment nearly $60, but that I had been charged a late fee and a pretty hefty one at that.

Hold on-now! How can I be late if I never received a bill? This must be a mistake and the bill that I was supposed to receive was probably lost in the mail. I thought surely the bank, who will remain unnamed, would fix the problem. After all, I had always made my payments ahead of schedule and my usual bank had been very helpful in the past whenever I found a mistake.

I called the bank and politely informed them of the situation. They informed me that the best they could do was credit my card for half of the late fee. They called it sharing the loss. What loss? I explained to them that I understood that this wasn't their fault since their records indicated that the bill was sent, but that I also knew that a payment that is only seven days late did not cost them $20. The representative that I was speaking with reiterated that it was not their fault that the bill was lost in the mail. I mentioned that with so much mail being lost during the Christmas season that they must be making a killing. The lady politely informed me that a lot of people were calling with the same problem I had and that the bank had actually given away more money than they had made.

Two things came to mind at this point. One, they didn't give me any money by sharing the loss, they took away $20! Two, exactly how many people were charged this late fee? At this point I decided to cut my losses and accept the late fee, until I received the next state-

The Mississippi House of Representatives honored the late Col. Lawrence E. Roberts in an impressive ceremony on Friday, March 4. ## Legislature honors Col. Roberts

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE LIFE AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF COLONEL LAWRENCE E. ROBERTS AND EXPRESSING DEEPEST SYMPATHY TO HIS FAMILY AND FRIENDS UPON HIS PASSING.

WHEREAS, Colonel Lawrence E. Roberts, an American hero, loving husband, devoted father, warrior, gentleman, man of God and decorated veteran of both the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force, departed this life on Tuesday, October 12, 2004, at the age of 81 to enter into eternal rest, causing great sorrow and loss to his family and friends; and

WHEREAS, having served his country in many capacities as a ground-breaking Tuskegee Airman, a decorated fighter pilot and a highly respected officer, Colonel Roberts, in addition to being a model figure for his family, served his chosen Gulf Coast community in the capacities that matter most: improving education, molding young leaders and living his deeply held belief in the strength of God and family; and

WHEREAS, there can be no greater measure of success than to say that a person's life made the world a better place, and the measure of Colonel Roberts' success cannot yet be taken, because the profound impact upon his family and friends will continue to be his legacy of strength, responsibility, integrity and faith for generations; and

WHEREAS, remaining humble in every aspect of life, making no mention of his own distinguished career, Colonel Roberts shared his family with the community and the nation, and that deep family pride and support provided the foundation upon which the building blocks of confidence and success were solidly grounded; and

WHEREAS, one of the famed Tuskegee Airmen, Roberts arrived at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Mississippi, as a cadet in 1943 and retired there as a colonel in 1975 and he subsequently worked with Global Associates until retiring permanently in 1985; and

WHEREAS, having grown up in Vauxhall, New Jersey, Colonel Roberts made his first flight in a J-3 Piper Cub, and as a Tuskegee Airman, flew Piper Cubs, Boeing B-25 bombers, C-54 transports and F-86 fighter jets; and

WHEREAS, the timeline of Colonel Roberts' military career is complemented by an impressive record of service as he progressed through the ranks, inclusive of Keesler Air Force Base; Tuskegee Institute, first as cadet and later as assistant professor of air science; Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio; Japan; Williams Air Force Base, Arizona; Sioux City Air Force Base, Canada; McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey; Izmir, Turkey, as NATO Commander; and Vietnam, as adviser to the South Vietnamese Air Force; and

WHEREAS, as a member of the historic and prestigious all-black U.S. Army Air Corps units that flew 1,578 missions over Europe and the Pacific during World War II and engaged in an additional 200 missions as bomber escorts which never lost a single aircraft; Colonel Roberts never received the opportunity to engage in World War II combat, but served in Vietnam, where he was awarded one of his three Legion of Merit medals; and

great responsibility in the Air Force, he also remained active in community groups, including Leadership Gulf Coast, the Boy Scouts of America, the Pass Christian Rotary Club, the Pass Christian School Board and in 1996, along with his family, created the Genesis Foundation of Mississippi, Inc., to assist Coast nonprofit agencies and organizations; and

WHEREAS, a deeply religious man and member of First Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis, Colonel Roberts was never too busy for his family and instilled in them a spirit of giving; and

WHEREAS, hailed as a legend of his time, Colonel Roberts will be remembered for his gentle spirit and genuine concern for a better quality of life and education for all, and his legacy and memory will forever thrive in the hearts and memories of his survivors; including:

Lucimarian; son, Lawrence II; daughters, Sally Ann, Dorothy and Robin; eight grandchildren; and a host of friends and colleagues; and

WHEREAS, it is the policy of the Legislature to commend the lives of such notable and humble Mississippians as Colonel Roberts, whose life will forever be remembered in the history of this state and nation, and who inspired countless numbers to strive diligently to achieve their dreams:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN, That we do hereby commend the life of the legendary Tuskegee Airman, astute soldier and devout Mississippian, Colonel Lawrence E. Roberts, and extend our deepest sympathy to his family and friends upon his passing.

isn't considered impoverished, but its transportation needs are underserved. For Mississippians in our south central counties, I-14 is more about furthering economic development through better access.

The Mississippi section of I-14 will follow roughly along the existing route of Highway 84, from Waynesboro through the Laurel-Hattiesburg-Brookhaven-McComb areas and onto Natchez. The Laurel-Hattiesburg area has enjoyed growth, but there is still capacity for much more. The same can be said for the Brookhaven-McComb area.

Yet folks in the Natchez area can perhaps benefit most from direct interstate access. Though Natchez is the historic birthplace of modern Mississippi and today remains the icon of Mississippi and our tourism economy, the area yearns for interstate access, having been left out of previous construction cycles. I-14 would bring significant new accessibility to counties in Southwest Mississippi, elevating the area's tourism economy and, most important, allowing for more economic diversification outside the tourism arena.

Is this a long-term proposal that will take decades to accomplish?

Absolutely. New interstates are major investments of time and money. Yet they're clearly worth it. Today's economy simply couldn't function without interstate highways. Most of us now can't imagine life without them, yet many of us remember travel before them. Without superhighways, it took considerably longer for people and goods to get from point A to point B.

Still, we sometimes forget that millions of Americans remain isolated from interstate ramps and distant from the veins of commerce which circulate the life blood of economic growth and economic hope. I-14 and other new interstate proposals together mark the next evolution of our interstate system. Their ramps will lead to much-needed, new opportunities for people in all the communities they will touch.

ment. This time I was shocked and appalled to see that once again my minimum payment was far more than $10. Upon closer examination, I saw that my zero percent interest rate had been jacked up to 29.99 percent and by the looks of the finance charge it was compounded daily.

Immediately I called the bank. The representative with whom I was speaking informed me that since I was late on my payments, I forfeited my zero percent interest rate and I was correct, it was compounded daily. Of course, they could have told me this when I had spoken to them the last time since I informed them that I had the money to pay the card off and had threatened to cancel the card.

I paid the card off over the phone and when I hung up I remembered what the last representative told me. She had said that a lot of people had called with the same problem I had. I suddenly realized how much money they would have made if the bank had done this to just ten percent of their clientele. That would be quite a racket. I immediately contacted the Better Business Bureau, by Internet of course. It's faster that way.

In a matter of days, the BBB informed me that they had received my complaint and were talking to the bank. A few days after that, the bank sent me a letter informing me that they were sorry for any misunderstanding and they would refund the balance of the late fee plus any interest that I had paid.

Well now, this let me know that they knew that what they had done was shady. That is why I am writing this now. If this or something similar has happened to anyone else, please contact the Better Business Bureau. I did and I am satisfied with the results.

Sewer -- Pearlinton wants answers

requested those minutes, the board said that they had no employees and did not know where to look for the records he had requested. Board attorney Mike Haas said he would try to call past secretaries and ask if they were in possession of the documents.

Haas presented a letter from attorney Riley Morse requesting that the board supply minutes, receipts, records of income and expenditures and a copy of the board's by-laws. Some of the information had already been supplied, Haas said, making some of the requests a duplicate.

He suggested that the board authorize him to prepare a policy on requests for information from the public. Haas also suggested that the board charge for any research required to find requested records, as well as a per-page fee.

A resident of Belle Isle said he wanted to know why his subdivision, which is badly in need of sewer services, was scheduled to be in the last phase of planned services. The area has been waiting for almost ten years for a treatment system, the man said.

According to a letter from the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality dated August 1997, the bayous in and around Belle Isle had fecal coliform bacteria levels between 300 and 2400 colonies per 100 milliliters, far above the state recommended levels of recreational criteria of no more than 200 colonies per 100 milliliters.

Reasons for the levels could be from the presence of animals; however, the letter states, "visual observations of direct discharges from residences in the area, along with the knowledge of the use of septic tanks in the community, would certainly indicate that a major reason for the high bacteria count in this circumstance is the result of inadequately treated human wastewater discharging into the bayou." Such a situation could cause

"adverse health effects," the letter continues and "prolonged contact with the water is not recommended." The letter does recommend implementation of a community treatment system as soon as possible.

The decision on where to draw lines for various phases is an engineering decision, said Cuevas. Haas said that the decision on where to draw the lines for Phase 2, the first phase which will be implemented, was based mainly on income levels to allow the district to secure a CDBG grant.

Dixon said that the area designated to be included in Phase 2, which is south of Hwy. 90, is very sparsely populated, and that even the area designated for Phase 1, which is the next phase in line to be completed, is not as densely populated as the Phase 3 area.

Phase 3 is the last phase proposed to be completed and the only one not yet funded. Dixon said that when he asked engineers about the drawing of lines for the various phases, the engineers told him they did what the board told them to do. Dixon suggested that pipes and equipment designated for the Phase 2 below Hwy. 90 be reassigned to a more populated area to serve more people, especially the people in Belle Isle.

Cuevas said again that the decision on where to draw lines for the various phases was one that the engineers designing the system had made.

"Why they designed it that way, I don't know," Cuevas said. "Compton Engineering designed the system and drew the lines for phases."

Cuevas told the group that he would have a team of engineers at the next board meeting on April 7 to answer questions.

When asked why the implementation of a central collection system had been delayed for so long, board members said that problems with obtaining funding and coordination with various state and federal agencies were responsible for part of the delay. Originally, Southern Regional Wastewater Management District had plans to build a pipeline from the Waveland plant to service Pearlinton as recommended by an original study on county wastewater solutions. Another study, done by the same consulting firm, URS, changed the recommended plans to include a new treatment plant for the Pearlinton and Kiln areas.

Already completed plans for the pipeline were scrapped at that time and attention was turned toward new plans to build the two new treatment plants.

BWNTF -- seven suspects

Thomas Teabout, 31, Fayard St., Waveland, one count manufacture, cultivation of a controlled substance, (marijuana). Bond was set at $2,500.

Agents acted on an anonymous tip as were able to secure approximately 20 marijuana plants. The plants were growing in a greenhouse in the back of Mr. Teabout's residence. Detective Ian Estorffe is handling the investigation. A preliminary court date in Waveland Municipal Court has been set for March 10.

On Mar. 2, agents charged John Dalton Hendrix, 19, of Waveland, with one count sale of a controlled substance, (cocaine). Bond was set at $20,000. A preliminary court date has been set for April 5.

Agents took Hendrix into custody on a traffic stop shortly after he left his residence. The Task Force had received numerous complaints about Hendrix selling powder cocaine. The case was a joint investigation by the Bay-Waveland Drug Task Force and the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics.

Also on Mar. 2, agents arrested Anthony Saucier, 17, of Shieldsborough Housing Authority, Bay St. Louis, charged him with one count sale of a controlled substance, (marijuana). His bond was set at $20,000.

Saucier was taken into custody by agents while he was in class at Bay High School and they are also in the process of seizing $20 in cash that was in his possession at the time of his arrest.

Saucier is being charged as an adult because he is alleged to have sold narcotics to a fellow Bay High student on Federal Housing Authority Property. The Housing Authority has been notified of Saucier's arrest, as anyone selling, or possession narcotics on Federal Housing is terminated from their Section 8 lease.

The task force has received numerous complaints about narcotics sales conducted at Saucier's place.

Detective Brent Anderson is in charge of the investigation. Saucier has an initial court appearance scheduled for Mar. 23.

The Task Force has charged Timothy Wayne Brown, 39, of Bay St. Louis, with one count sale of a controlled substance, (crystal methamphetamine). Brown's bond was set at $20,000.

Task Force agents arrested Brown on Mar. 2, at his residence in the Waverly Apartments in Bay St. Louis. Brown is facing enhanced habitual charges due to the fact that he has several previous felony convictions. Brown was also terminated from his employment at a local retail store because he provided false information and an alias to obtain his employment. His apartment owners have also been informed of his arrest.

The investigation of Brown was by Task Force Agents and the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics. His preliminary court date is set for April 5.

Bay-Waveland agents arrested John Hall, 19, Nacaise St., Waveland, on Mar. 2, and charged him with two counts of conspiracy to sell a controlled substance, (cocaine). His bond was set at $40,000.

Hall was taken into custody at his residence. The report said Hall was a key middleman in facilitating illegal narcotic transactions from drug dealers in Louisiana. Both of the high level drug dealers in Louisiana have been arrested. Their arrests took place because of a joint investigation by the Bay-Wave Task Force and the St. Tammany Parish Narcotics Division.

Detective Brent Anderson is handling the local investigation and Hall has a preliminary court date of March 24 scheduled.

The Bay-Waveland Narcotics Division and the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics arrested Vernon Lynn Smithson, 26, Hwy. 11, Slidell, LA, and charged him with one count sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine). His bond was set at $20,000.

Mr. Smithson was on probation for burglary through the state of Louisiana at the time of his arrest. Smithson sold a large quantity of crack cocaine to an undercover Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics agent.

Agents then conducted a joint operation with the St. Tammany Parish Narcotics Division and arrested Smithson at his residence. Smithson is lodged in the St. Tammany Parish jail and awaiting extradition to Hancock County.

In a joint operation, the local Task Force and the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics arrested Charles Smithson, 24, Fourth St., Slidell, and charged him with two counts of sale of a controlled substance, (cocaine), one count sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), and one count conspiracy, (crack cocaine). Smithson is the brother of Vernon Smithson who was also arrested on drug charges. Charles Smithson is alleged to have sold the illegal narcotics to an undercover agent of the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics.

Charles Smithson was also on probation when he sold the illegal drugs to undercover agent. The Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force believe the two brothers were responsible for bringing large amounts of cocaine to Hancock County from Louisiana.

Charles Smithson is being held without bond and awaiting extradition to Mississippi. McNeil and Varnell urges anyone suspecting drug activities in their area to call the Bay-Waveland Task Force at 467-5683.

was made by a confidential source from a Fig Drive residence, and along with this information and initial investigation, search warrants were issued for two residences. One was at 5170 Spruce Drive and the other 5093 Fig Drive, with the residences being back-to-back.

"At the Spruce Drive residence, agents seized approximately two pounds of marijuana and some $3,930 in cash, mostly $100 bills. Arrested at the Spruce Street address were Jimmy Lee Jones, 28, and Nicole Marie Jones, 29. Both were charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute," Long reported.

Long said bonds were set by Justice Court Judge Ricky Adams on Jimmy Jones at $40,000 and Nicole Jones at $20,000.

At the Fig Drive residence, agents located a small amount of marijuana and some Zanex and Loritab pills, Long reported. "Clayton James Earl, 27, and Sabrina Marie Earl, 22, were arrested at the Fig Drive residence and charged with misdemeanor drug charges and bond was set at $1,500 each," Long stated.

There were nine CNET agents and four agents from the Hancock Narcotics Division and a Hancock patrol officer involved in the simultaneous serving of the warrants Long said adding, "The investigation is still continuing."

Garber added, "Benitez-Arce is currently being held at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility with no bond, because of the arrest and his status as an illegal alien."

The investigation contin-

Dearest Seanman,
 It doesn't seem possible that another year has gone by. We are always remembering all of the joy that you brought into our lives, the movies and activities you enjoyed and the smile that brightened every day.
 We know that you, Ceci and Joe were with us this last summer when the jury was ready to give their verdict. The thunder boomed, the lightning cracked and the lights flickered as the jury verdict found CSX guilty of taking you from our lives. We can only hope that you were proud of our vigilance in finding justice for you.
 We also feel you are very proud of the 12 people who could see the Truth in our loss.

Happy Birthday Seanman!

Business, procurement conference planned

The Mississippi Development Authority, Mississippi Contract Procurement Center and the Mississippi Coast Chamber of Commerce are hosting "The Mississippi Governor's Business/Procurement Opportunities Conference and Trade Fair" March 22-24, at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center in Biloxi.

The conference/fair is designed to promote partnerships between federal, state, local government and commercial buying offices and small businesses, particularly minority and women-owned businesses. The conference/fair will provide up to date information on many of the latest federal and state acquisition reform initiatives as well as provide a forum to market and network with government agencies and industry leaders.

Buying activities representing federal, state and local governments plus large prime and commercial contractors seeking suppliers will be in attendance. A business can save over a year in time and effort plus considerable expenses to make contact with each of the agencies and contractors that will be represented at this conference/fair.

Information for the conference/fair can be obtained at <http://conference2005.msccpc.com> or by calling the Mississippi Contract Procurement Center, (228) 396-1288. Registration Form, Agenda, Invited Participants and other important information are all included on the website for the conference.

Employment Expo set at Trademart

The fourth annual Mississippi Employment Expo will be held March 22 at the Mississippi Trademart Center located on the State Fair Grounds.

Job seekers will have access to more than 100 employers at the MS Employment Expo. The show's hours are from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. and is open free of charge to job seekers from the general public as well as college graduates. Booth space is still available for interested employers.

The employers who will be at our Job Fair are there for one reason and that is to find employees," said Joe Buckner, Director of the Governor's Job Fair Network.

Buckner said that participating employers represent a wide range of skill levels and types of jobs. Job opportunities include city, state and federal government positions, law enforcement, medical, manufacturing, truck driving, computer-related positions, management and education.

Some of the participating employers include the FBI, Jackson State University, Hinds Community College, Mississippi Development Authority, Bell South, Trustmark, U.S. Department of State/Diplomatic Security, Mississippi State Hospital, National Aviation Academy, and the Mississippi Hospital Association Health Careers Center.

Human resources representatives from various employers will accept resumes and applications and conduct interviews. Buckner advises job seekers arrive early, dress appropriately for a job interview and bring several copies of their resumes. "And if you have children," Buckner said, "make arrangements for your children so that you can interview with employers."

MDES Executive Director Tommy Dale Favre said the Job Fair is the ideal setting for those seeking employment. "Where else but at our Job Fair can an applicant for employment find more than 100 potential employers waiting to discuss available jobs, all at no expense to the job seeker," Favre said.

Sponsors of the Job Fair include the Governor's Job

Fair Network, the Mississippi Development Authority, The Clarion Ledger, MetroJackson Economic Development Alliance, and WIN Job Centers. Co-sponsors include MetroJackson Chamber of Commerce, Belhaven College, Capital Area Human Resource Association, City of Jackson, Hinds Community College, Jackson State University, Millsaps College, Mississippi College, Mississippi Army National Guard, Mississippi Association of Colleges and Employers, and others. More than 4,000 job applicants and 116 employers attended last year's program. For more information or for a booth space, call Joe Buckner at (601) 321-6154.

Bay slips past Vancleave 3-1; HHS bags two wins over Gautier

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers (1-4, 1-0) opened their division schedule with a 3-1 win over the visiting Vancleave Bulldogs on Friday night. Cory Jordan threw all but two pitches and allowed just four hits to get the win for the Tigers on the mound. Jordan added seven K's to his stat sheet in the game.

Vancleave got their only run of the game in the top of the first inning when Nick Dubuison touched home plate on a fielder's choice.

The Tigers roared in the third inning when Zach Thompson led the inning off when he was hit by a pitch. Brad Ladner gave Bay High two baserunners when he ripped a single to leftfield. Trevor Adam followed with an RBI double that scored Thompson to tie the game at 1-1.

Kyle Sick added an RBI single to score Ladner followed by an RBI for David Buckley on a fielder's choice to make the score 3-1.

Vancleave looked like they were going to make some noise in the top of the seventh when they loaded the bases for the Coast's best hitter, Ty Summerlin.

Chad Jacquet singled to centerfield and Kris Box added a two-out single to leftfield that put two baserunners on for Vancleave.

Nick Dubuison drew a walk to load the bags for Summerlin. Bay High head coach Mike Weems pulled Jordan and put Trevor Adam on the mound who forced Summerlin into a two-pitch flyout.

Jordan was sent from the pitcher's mound to rightfield but still wanted to finish the game off. He did as he put out Summerlin's attempt to rightfield and the Tigers won 3-1.

Weems stated, "I am so proud of the team. Cory Jordan pitched a good ball game and his defense really showed up to play. We knew what Vancleave had coming into the game. We won one inning and they won one inning."

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (5-3, 0-2) dropped their second division game on Friday night to East Central 6-2.

SSC head coach Mark Logan commented, "We are not making the plays we need to make on defense. We gave up some 0-2 hits that could have changed the game. We are just not playing sound baseball right now. Adam McQueen is a very good pitcher and we got 8 hits off of him but he also had 10 strikeouts, too. Our pitcher, Alex Nunez, battled hard for us tonight but we did not back him up with consistent defense."

East Central jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead but SSC answered with a run in the bottom of the first. The Hornets added runs in the fourth and fifth innings plus three more in the top of the seventh. SSC managed to get one run in the bottom of the sixth inning after leaving the bases loaded twice and stranding a total of 10 runners in the game.

Bay High and SSC both played in the the Bay High tournament on Saturday, March 5th. Game details will be released in Thursday's issue. The Rocks and the Tigers are slated to lock horns on Friday, March 11th.

The Bay High Lady Tigers softball team dropped their record to 1-1 with a 4-3 loss on Friday night to St. Martin.

St. Martin got two runs in the top of the first and the top of the fourth. Bay High answered in the first when Whitney Favre singled Kendra Reed home to make the score 2-1. Sarah Favre also had an RBI when she singled Whitney Favre home later in the game.

On Tuesday, March 1st, the Pass Christian Pirates lost a close game with the D'Iberville Warriors 2-1 in Division 8-4A action. The Warriors (5-1, 1-0) took a 2-0 lead by the third inning and held on for the win.

Brett Sanders took the loss on the mound for the Pirates.

In other division action, SSC (5-2, 0-1) dropped their first game in division to Vancleave 9-1 on the road. The Bulldogs got nine runs on nine hits.

Bay High fell to Picayune 5-1 as the Maroon Tide jumped to an early lead and Bay High scored their only run in the bottom of the seventh.

The Hancock Hawks defeated Gautier on back-to-back nights Tuesday and Wednesday. Robert Pullens tallied the win on Tuesday with a 1-0 mark and Brad McGlade collected two hits at the plate on Wednesday in the 3-1 win for Hancock.

In high school softball action on Tuesday, Hancock fell to the Lady Indians of Biloxi 4-1. Jessica Dubuison was the losing pitcher for Hancock as the Lady Hawks were only able to get two hits in the game.

On February 28th, Tyler Hughes pitched a no-hitter for the SSC junior high baseball team in their 15-0 shutout of Pass Christian. SSC scored their runs off 13 hits and were led by James Abraham at the plate with 3 RBIs and three runs scored.

Hughes faced just 16 batters and struck out nine of them.

He allowed four walks and the other three were out on fly balls.

Lady Tigers take charge out of Oxford

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Lady Tigers (32-2) took their first step in reaching the Class 4A state basketball finals for the fourth consecutive year with a 50-40 victory over the Lady Chargers of Oxford (24-8) on Wednesday, March 2nd in Jackson.

The win places the Lady Tigers in a semi-final match with the South's #1-seed Jackson-Wingfield on Tuesday, March 8th at 6:30pm in the "Big House."

Kendra Reed, Destiny Porter and Tamara Reed all scored in double-digits to lead the Bay High offense while a strong zone defense shut down Oxford's scoring star Portia Blackmon and held her to just 7 points in the game.

Kendra Reed scored 14 points followed by 11 points from Porter and 10 from Tamara Reed.

Bay High head coach Debbie Triplett stated, "We shot the ball and took care of the ball much better than we did last weekend at Wayne County. Oxford played a zone against us to start the game and we were fortunate to hit some shots and then they went to a man defense. Once we were able to isolate Kendra (Reed) and Destiny (Porter) in the low post, the shots began to come to us. Now, Oxford shot the ball very well especially from the perimeter; however, I thought we played good defense. They are a very good team and gave us all we wanted."

The Lady Tigers trailed most of the first period but consecutive three-pointers by Kendra and Tamara Reed kept the game tied at 11-11 heading into the second period.

Kendra Reed hit a free-throw with 7:39 left in the first half and Bay High never trailed after that. The Lady Tigers led 22-19 at halftime. Bay High was up 20-13 with 1:50 left but consecutive treys by Oxford brought the Lady Chargers within three points at the break.

Hope Adams hit a jump shot to start the second half for Oxford to make the score 22-21 and that would be as close as Oxford would get.

Tamara Reed and Sara Gilmore quickly put Bay High back out front with a six-point difference as Bay High cruised to a 33-27 lead after three periods.

Tamara Reed and Crystal Skretching iced the game with two free-shots each to make the final difference.

Triplett continued, "Jackson-Wingfield is a very athletic basketball team with two solid guards in the backcourt. They are not a very large team but they are very athletic."

Bay High has reached the state finals in 4A the last three years winning the gold ball in 2003 when they defeated Canton High School. In 2002, they lost to Jackson-Provine by a basket. Northeast Jones claimed the title over Bay High last year in Jackson. Prior to that, Bay High last reached the state finals in 1998 under Triplett and lost to Oxford High School in the state title game.

Miss Eva's Bayou

Community

87-year-old
Bayou LaCroix
native recalls
pre-Stennis days

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

The Bayou La Croix settlement was a very diverse group of people mostly united by their sense of community, their devotion to their creator, and their belief in the positive benefits of hard work. When the John C. Stennis Space Center moved into the area in the early 1960s, what its founders likely saw stretching along the rivers and bayous and among the tall pines, was a series of rural communities and farmland, and a relatively small group of people who they must have figured could just as well live their lives further up the road.

They couldn't have known the devotion that the people had to their land or to their simple way of life, or that life under the big trees in West Hancock County was the magical and happy experience that most residents remember. If they had, then the communities of Logtown, Santa Rosa, Napoleon, Nancy's Flat, Gainesville, Bayou La Croix and others would probably still be with us.

After Johann "John" Zengarling landed in New York from his home in Gehrden, Germany he headed out for New Orleans. From New Orleans he took a boat to a place along the Pearl River called English Landing, and from there he walked on to look for relatives, says granddaughter, Eva Zengarling Manieri, 87, now of Bay St. Louis. He walked to Lakeshore, the Ansley area and on to Bayou Phillips and Bayou La Croix. It was Indian territory, said Miss Eva.

Miss Eva Zengarling Manieri, 87, now of Bay St. Louis, recalls her days in Bayou La Croix when life was simple and days were happy. Echo staff photo by Bennie Shallbetter History buff Jerry Heitzmann, and a relative to Miss Eva (his mother is Miss Eva's sister Velma), said that it was later, in the Lakeshore area, that Johann met his future bride Anna "Barbara" Hauch of Jébenhausen, Germany, who was working in the fields. When he saw her, he fell in love, said Heitzmann. The couple married in 1855.

Sleeping in the Potato House

The couple lived for a while in an aunt's potato house which they cleaned out, moved in a bed, and used for a home till their own home could be built. In those days you had to cut your own logs and your own lumber, but they finally got a little house built on the bayou, Miss Eva said. Johann would work all day cutting wood for neighbors and for the timber companies and then work all night on his own land to clear the trees and plant crops so they would have food to eat.

With Johann it became a tradition in the Zengarling family to give a heifer to each child as they came of age, and when each cow was marked, the mark was registered at the court-house.

Johann had left Germany to search for more freedom and to get away from the ongoing battles plaguing his country, but it wasn't long before he found himself fighting in America, in the Civil War. When he was shot in the leg an officer gave him three ten dollar gold pieces and one of the gold pieces remains in the family today, though there were many times when it came close to being spent, said Miss Eva. The gold piece was passed along to Miss Eva's father Joseph, at his baptism.

Johann passed on his dedication to hard work to his children and his son Joseph was no exception. Joseph worked the

Teacher retreats offered at PRCC

Mississippi Courage to Teach, a retreat program facilitated by Pearl River Community College instructor and veteran teacher Dr. Susan Nodurft, is offering a weekend "sampler" retreat at Swallow Fork in Poplarville on April 29-May 1. The retreat, which begins at 6 pm on Friday and ends at noon on Sunday, are currently open to teachers of all grade levels, counselors, and administrators.

According to Dr. Nodurft, "Participants use personal stories, reflections of classroom practice, and insights from others to learn how to reconnect with their students by thinking deeply and holistically about themselves and their work. It is a unique experience of rejuvenation and growth in which participants are asked to speak honestly about their lives and work, and to listen and respond to each other - and to themselves - with encouragement and compassion."

According to a recent participant in a two-year program, "CTT has been one of the greatest experiences of my life. I never knew it would bring out the youth and energy I had when I first began teaching. It rekindled that spark to try new methods and awake those I had when I really felt successful as a teacher."

Current participant and PRCC instructor Dr. Rosemary Woullard calls CTT a "nature-filled soul revival that recharges our body mentally and physically and reinvigorates our being."

Kindergarten teacher

Anne Hillman says, "Being a part of a Courage Circle is an astonishing experience. After a retreat weekend I return to school with my spirit for teaching renewed. I'm sure that what I gain is passed on to the children I care for each day."

Participating teachers will receive 1.5 CEU's. For more information, contact Dr. Susan Nodurft at (601) 403-1147 or snodurft@prcc.edu

Miss Eva -- Bayou LaCroix

land like his father and soon started building a house. He was friendly with the McArthurs, who had moved to the area from somewhere near Picayune, Miss. Eva said.

One day the McArthur girls were watching Joseph work. One of the girls remarked that Joseph needed a little bird to live with him to make the house a home, but it was my mother Mary who spoke up, Miss Eva said.

She said "I want to be the little bird that lives here." Six months later, the couple married. The marriage produced seven boys and three girls.

Miss Eva is the only one still living of the ten. She began her married life in the same community, marrying Emile Peter Mesteri in 1942. The couple raised four children, two boys and two girls.

"We didn't have much," said Miss Eva of her childhood. "But we had food on top of food, goats, chickens, hogs and raised the rest too. My dad believed in eating. We cured our own meat, made our own lard, and cooked the sugar cane. My dad and my uncle had a large cattle business at one time they had both side of Hwy. 90 and the cows could graze all the way to the Pearl River."

Sometime Joseph and his brother Matthias would ride along the bayou in the evening and sit and watch the Indians dance across the water. "They would have a big bonfire and a fiddle and dance by the fire until dawn," Miss Eva said. "I remember a man they called Indian Dave—he was very quiet and suddenly there he would be—he scared me."

"My mother and daddy liked everyone and there was always laughing and talking. If they knew someone was hungry they were going to feed them," she said. "We had more company then you could dream of and our house was always full of people. When my mother was sick (she died when Eva was 11) people came to see her and one Sunday 65 people came to visit her."

"My mother liked to be clean and we had to be clean. We would stand in line to get washed up," she said.

"There are a lot of things that most children today won't ever know, Miss Eva said. "Dirt roads and a community mailbox that was a half a mile from the house—but I tell you what—we were the happiest people in the world. People just could not understand how we all got along so well."

"We didn't fuss and fight, oh, that was a no no."

"We had a mule team that hauled hay and someone had to get on top and stomp it down so they said to my brother and I—we would jump on the hay. We jumped up and down and no one mentioned work and we didn't know we were working."

"Lots of kids came and stayed at our house. We all played together and on rainy days we would play cards and my mother would set up a table and we would laugh so much that people would think we were fighting. We had our games and the boys would hunt squirrels."

"One lady told me recently, 'that was the happiest time of our lives.' I would have thought she would have forgotten it all years ago."

Pass Christian student to walk in the steps of U.S. Leaders in Washington

Kyle McKeough, 12, of Pass Christian will join 200 middle school students from throughout the United States at the Junior National Young Leaders Conference (JrNYLC) March 5-10 in Washington, D.C.

Themed The Legacy of American Leadership, the Conference introduces young people to the rich tradition of leadership throughout American history, while helping them develop their own leadership skills. McKeough will participate in educational activities and presentations led by individuals in high-level positions as well as young people who exercise leadership skills within their communities. Students will also rub elbows with elected officials and key Congressional staff members on Capitol Hill and will visit historic national landmarks, including Colonial Williamsburg, from which our country took shape.

"The aim of the Junior National Young Leaders Conference is to inspire students like Kyle McKeough to recognize their own leadership skills, measure their skills against those of current and former leaders and return home with new found confidence in their ability to exercise positive influence within their communities," said Mike Lasday, executive director of the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, the organization that sponsors JrNYLC. "Young people are not only welcome in Washington, D.C., they actually keep this city and our country running."

In addition to examining notable U.S. leaders and historic figures, McKeough will study the impact of leadership throughout critical periods of American history, including the Civil War and Reconstruction, World War II, the Great Depression and the Civil Rights Movement. Upon completion of JrNYLC, students will take home a greater sense of understanding of the role of individuals in American democracy, as well as the responsibilities of being a leader.

Kyle is a student at Pass Christian Middle School.

He is a member of the BETA Club, the Gifted Program, Duke University Scholastic Achievement Program, Gulf Coast Shotokan Karate, The Brook-Lin Center for Gymnastics, Dance, and More, and the Children's International Summer Village. In 2005, he received the National Mathematics Achievement Award. In 2004, he was awarded high merit in the Creative Communication's Young Poets Contest and had his poetry published. Kyle loves karate, card games, video games, and books.

CYLC is a nonprofit, non-partisan educational organization. Since 1985, the Council has inspired more than 200,000 young people to achieve their full leadership potential. Nearly 425 members of the U.S. Congress join our commitment by serving on the CYLC Honorary Congressional Board of Advisors. In addition, more than 40 embassies participate in the Council's Honorary Board of Embassies.

Andrea's Annex

The Easter Bunny has made her stop at Andrea's Annex, 310 Jeff Davis Ave., Long Beach, where handmade chocolate baskets, eggs, bunnies and Easter baskets abound.

Offering sugar-free, low-fat, low-carbohydrate and gourmet products, Andrea's Annex customizes the Easter baskets to your specifications. Owner Andrea Yeager studies with gift basket experts several times a year at the Gift Basket University at America's Mart in Atlanta and at the International Fancy Food Show in New York City.

"This season we are featuring colorful 'Happy Easter' boxes as well as baskets. We also can do double and triple baskets for Easter giving," Yeager said. "Just as fashion styles change so do basket trends. Our baskets are much more than products stuffed into a basket. They have personality."

Like her entire shop, the baskets are a labor of love for Yeager. She wants every recipient to feel that each basket was made with her/him in mind.

"In addition to the individual baskets, we also do corporate gift baskets and baskets for real estate agents," Yeager said. "My staff are fully trained in basket design and have worked with me the two years that we've been open. They know that our creations must have a distinctive look."

St. Paddy's Day goodies aren't overlooked either. Easy-does-it Irish soda bread and scone mixes complement Andrea's Annex's own line of lemon curd and orange marmalade. For appetizer-lovers, Nantucket's apple martini mix and rimmer, as well as chocolate martini and mojito mixes, make for a nice cocktail. Sugar-free pina colada, strawberry margarita and mai tai mixes also are available.

Jewelry by Cheryl Magandy of Long Beach are featured at Andrea's Annex. Magandy uses only the finest stones for her creations. She also makes rings, some of which feature Bearcats, Long Beach School District's mascot.

Gift baskets, while a fun part of the shop, are not all that Andrea's Annex offers. There are gourmet gifts that make great teachers', hostesses' and secret pals' gifts, costing less than $7. Hand-dipped chocolates, mulling spices, candles, cookbooks and Boyd's Bears are just some of the gift bag selections.

For chocolate lovers, the new "Eat Chocolate, Lose Weight" cookbook is a must-have. Author Anne Isham of Texas has spent years researching the health benefits of chocolate and has lost weight eating it. All the recipes use natural, healthy ingredients.

Another cookbook is a new one by Aspen Mulling Spices, which uses the mulling spices in everything from appetizers to Snickerdoodles.

Andrea's Annex also offers Gourmet-To-Go, featuring items such as shrimp and crab gumbo, soups, chicken salad and daily lunch specials, from Magnolia Catering in Gulfport; Manual's hot tamales, low-carb tortillas and pizza crusts. Sugar-free and regular cheesecakes are available daily from Hope's Cheesecakes in Gulf Shores, Ala.

"Make us your St. Paddy's and Easter stop. From the young to young-at-heart, we have treats that all will enjoy," Yeager said.

So, whatever your pleasure, Andrea's Annex aims to bless its customers.

Man's laws and God's laws are quite different. Forgiveness for breaking man's laws involves penalties; whereas forgiveness for breaking God's laws requires repentance. If someone breaks one of man's laws, we expect that person to be punished in one way or another. When we break one of God's laws, we should be remorseful and sorry for our offense, and we should try to refrain from sinning in the future. Of course, to help us live our lives as peacefully and stress-free as possible, it is never good to break either man's or God's laws. We sometimes think of God on the same parallel as man, and whenever we sin, we forget that God still loves and cares about us. The Bible tells us that if we confess our sins, God is faithful and just and will forgive us our sins and purify us from all unrighteousness (1 John 1:9). Man's laws are required in order to have a safe and orderly society, whereas God's laws are beneficial to obtain our Lord's peace and happiness.

You are forgiving
and good, O Lord,

'It takes the whole village!'

Are you going to bring my brother back to life?" I was within minutes of starting the funeral Mass for a 20-year-old male who had been shot to death six days before, when a deadly serious girl came and stood in front of me. The eyes of the lovely 10-year-old sparked fire and love as she asked me about her brother. Stunned and speechless, I was totally taken aback and studied the child carefully. If ever I wanted the power to bring a dead person back to life, I wanted it then. For the sake of Lacey, the innocent, loving sister of the fallen young man, I coveted the ability to work wonders, even the marvel beyond all other marvels of raising the dead to life.

Immediately, I thought of the exchange between Jesus and Martha, the sister of Lazarus, as Jesus approached the scene at the tomb of his friend Lazarus. Just as Lacey did in church, Martha hastened to confront Jesus and make her request:

"Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. But even now I know that whatever you ask of God, God will give you." (John 11:21-22)

It was one of those moments when we are forced to realize how much Jesus is in a league by himself. The rest of us are all utterly handcuffed when we come face to face with the starkness of terminal illness and death, especially in very young people.

A week before, Malcolm had had an altercation with a strange man whom no one in the group knew. Evidently, their words became a bit heated in the course of the argument. Still, as he left the area, Malcolm was convinced that fiery exchange had been put to rest.

Not quite. A week later, in the midst of a bachelor party of young adults, that unknown man approached Malcolm from the rear and fired a bullet into the back of his head. While Malcolm lay on the floor on his back, the assailant pumped several more bullets into him, and, before anyone could identify who he might be, fled the scene in great haste.

A preacher always has a problem burying someone younger than he, and that is vastly magnified when a 75-year-old preacher is dealing with a 20-year-old corpse. Thus, such a homegoing celebration becomes a confrontation with each one's own tenuous mortality.

One of the most alarming aspects of the funeral was that this very homegoing Mass prevented me from doing the simultaneous funeral of a 25-year-old who had been shot down from his bicycle in a hail of ten bullets. It was extremely painful for me to inform the man's mother that I could not do his funeral because of a direct time conflict.

The near-capacity crowd in church sported a considerable number of very young people who wore a constant troubled, melancholy mien before, during and after the homegoing celebration. They were ships without a rudder, travelers with no compass.

During the homily, when I zeroed in on the ever-worsening plight of so many of our black male children, the black male children and young adults present were a stark study in the dark funk of the severely frightened and disillusioned, if not the near despairing.

Revealingly, five of the six adolescent pallbearers sat with their arms on their thighs and their heads hanging down in dejection. At one point, I even challenged them: "Look up! Let me see your faces! I want to look each of you in the face! Look up!"

Sheepishly, they looked up one by one until all except one were sitting almost upright. Just one of them gave a half-hearted glance upward, then lapsed back into his funk. More eloquently than words could do, their body language set the tone of the celebration.

Mine was not a new message during the homily. On the contrary, it was an old-time, stern reminder of a much more innocent day when we children, adolescents and young adults could have sharp verbal exchanges which sometimes escalated into fistfights. At worst, punches flew and perhaps we engaged in some pulling and wrestling as well.

But there were no weapons used, not even sticks or stones. Sadly, all that has changed today. Fists, it seems, are hardly an option, and it would be encouraging if sticks or stones would be the only weapons of choice. Instead, these are leaptfrogged for a knife or gun.

We have come to such a pass in modern life that most of us, especially the youngest among us, can ill afford to engage in a hot argument. All too frequently, the matter at hand begins with a flood of bitter words, then is punctuated by the report of firearms.

A sure sign of weakness, ignorance and coldness, recourse to firearms or other deadly weapons is in any case a cause of deepening tragedy, affliction and sorrow among young people everywhere, especially black males. So where do we turn and what do we do?

Back to the old-time reminder of yesteryear, we once had a system, a tradition and a custom of rearing our children by parents, by guardians, by relatives, by counselors and by neighbors who look upon both theirs and other people's children as their own.

Rearing children was a collaborative venture shared by the entire neighborhood as an extended family, in the spirit of the African saying: "It takes a village to rear a child."

Vis-à-vis the frightful threat of deadly violence in our country today, that African saying has more validity and urgency than ever. Sure, parents and guardians can take care of the basics of education, training and discipline at home, but they cannot handle the safety of their children once they step out of the secure confines of the home.

It is up to each of us relatives, friends and neighbors to fulfill our role of the extended family, stepping forth fearlessly and confronting the enemies of all our children. This will often be risky, and at times dangerous, but we must stand and fill in the breach.

However difficult it may be to do so, we must convince our children that it is no longer safe to engage in heated arguments, since so many people are not satisfied to let issues end with words. Our children must hold their tongue wherever there is a danger that one or the other hothead will fly out of control and resort to lethal, fire-breathing weapons.

"Lacey, your brother Malcolm will rise again," as Jesus assured Martha, the sister of Lazarus, "in the resurrection on the last day." Meanwhile, we will stand by you as one family, protect you, and help to rear you as a complete, God-fearing human being.

Jesus is greater than you can imagine

There isn't enough books ever written to describe the wonderful attributes of the Son of God. Can you possibly imagine this Jesus, King of Kings, to agree to His Father's will and come to this troubled world? His foreknowledge told Him what He would experience. However, His love for mankind is impossible to conceive. He left a majestic throne where millions of angels worship Him and serve with obedience to His command. The universe was and is controlled by Him speaking it into existence. All authority was His; yet, He left His authority and royalty at the foot of His throne, and took on the role of a servant (Phil 2:7).

At 30 years old His ministry began. His dealing with people was with much patience and tolerance. He never returned evil for evil, never judged the down trodden, and always gave hope and love to everyone.

His Father gave Him a mission. Jesus says, "Because He has anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor, He has sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord" (Luke 4:18).

He knew before hand that, in spite of this kindness and love for people, they would eventually nail Him to a Roman Cross, and scorn Him shamefully.

His reply was, "Forgive them Father, for they know not what they do."

This King of Kings, Lord of Lords, Savior of the World, Great Shepherd or the Sheep, the Alpha and Omega, who we know as Jesus.

What a wonderful God to know.

Christ is Lord

Who is in control of your life? "Well, I'm basically in control of my life. In fact, I'd say I've got things put together pretty well."

Isn't this a typical answer? But that's the problem. It's too typical. As human beings, we often think too highly of ourselves.

In reality, we think too highly of ourselves to the exclusion of God. In talking about people who often exclude God from their thinking, the Bible says, "Professing to be wise, they became fools and exchanged the glory of the incorruptible God for an image in the form of corruptible man . . . [They] worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator" (Romans 1:22, 23, & 25).

It is foolish to exclude God from our thinking. When we do, we become very self-centered. We indulge in a kind of self-worship. This is a violation of the very first of God's Ten Commandments, "You shall have no other gods before Me" (Exodus 20:3).

You may even consider yourself a Christian. But your life contradicts the very First Commandment. The solution is to return to God. This means turning to Christ. Jesus said, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father, but through Me" (John 14:6).

So you need to turn to Christ. You need to accept Christ as the Lord over your life. You need to begin to live for Christ. You see, the basic confession of the true Christian is that Jesus Christ is Lord! "If you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved" (Romans 10:9).

Pass Christian Garden Club earns 'Tree' title for 14th Year

Three trees were planted by the Pass Christian Garden Club in its annual celebration of Arbor Day on Feb. 11 at the William Bartram Arboretum on Menge Avenue. A Kwanzan Flowering Cherry was planted in memory of the late Adele Bielenberg, a longtime garden club member who died this year. A live oak and dogwood were also planted.

Helen Davis, one of four trustees of the arboretum, was mistress of the ceremony. The other trustee present was Mary Catherine Ward. Trustees Jean Moreland and Margie Walle were unable to attend.

A special proclamation from Mayor Billy McDonald was read to the club by Peggy Johnson, City of Pass Christian Community Development and Code Officer.

Urban Forester Todd

Mathews with the Mississippi State Forestry Commission presented a "Tree City USA" flag and plaque to the garden club, making this the 14th year that the club has been designated with this recognition for its Arbor Day plantings.

Club members and guests gathered for the ceremony which included the Pledge of Allegiance and a song led by Elsie Hutto.

Journalism boot camp scheduled for teachers, students through MPA

The Mississippi Press Association Education Foundation and The University of Mississippi Journalism Department are co-sponsoring a 5-day journalism boot camp for Mississippi journalism advisers and a 10-day workshop for high school journalism students.

The boot camp and workshop will be conducted this summer: June 21-25 for advisers and June 21-30 for students. The boot camp and workshops are available to all teachers and students in high schools who currently have, or are interested in starting, a journalism program and/or publication in their school.

The boot camp qualifies advisers for up to 3.3 hours of Continuing Education Units (CEUs) and will give students skills to help them be leaders on their publication staffs.

By attending the boot camp teachers and students will become skilled in the use of publication software, photography software, design, reporting, editing, advertising and staff management.

Full scholarships, which will cover housing, field trips, resource materials and food, are available for both the boot camp and workshops. The teacher boot camp scholarships are funded by the Charles Overby High School Journalism Fund, which is administered by the MPA Education Foundation. Scholarships are competitive, and decisions will be made on strength of application, interest in journalism and date of application materials. Transcripts and letters of recommendation will be considered in student selection.

The boot camp and workshop sessions will begin late Tuesday afternoon, June 21, at Farley Hall on The University of Mississippi campus in Oxford. Some adviser/student sessions will be joint classes in order to facilitate staff planning. Advisers are encouraged to come and bring a responsible staff member or editor to make the best use of the hands-on training available; however, joint registration is not a requirement. Many of the sessions will be individualized to best meet the needs of advisers and/or students.

The daily agenda is fun, action-packed and educational. Several field trips are planned to newspapers in the area, and both educators and professionals will serve as instructors of the classes. Students will also be able to produce their own newspaper during their time on campus.

For more information on the teacher boot camp or student workshops, contact Boot Camp Coordinator Beth Fitts at fitts@water-valley.net or 662.816-8159 or 662.234-2244. Other contacts: The University of Mississippi Department of Journalism, 662.915-7146; the Mississippi Press Association, 601.981-3060. Applications are available in PDF format on MPA's web site (foundation@mspress.org), or they can be mailed to those interested. The application deadline is April 15. Register early since space is limited.

DARK DEEDS AT SWAN'S PLACE or

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present "Dark Deeds at Swan's Place."

BSLLT presents 'Dark Deeds'

THE SEA COAST ECHO
"Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present Dark Deeds at Swan's Place or Never Trust a Tattooed Sailor, a tongue-in-cheek melodrama, written by Tim Kelly. BSLLT dedicates these performances to the memory of actor-director Teddy Stechmann, who always wanted to present a melodrama.

Set in the Old West during the 'Gold Rush' the story is loaded with laughs and comic delight, seedy jokes and escapist entertainment. The villain and his henchwoman make a tidy profit shanghaiing young lads to ships that sail from California to the China Seas.

They operate from a disreputable tavern owned by a grizzled prospector, who dies and wills the tavern to an innocent niece, an orphan. The villain must get rid of the damsel. Enter an English sailor with a love for the theatre. He offers the niece his protection and the hilarity goes into high gear.

Soldiers, widows, society matrons, cowboys, mysterious figures, and a crusty sea captain collide to make the mirth even merrier.

Performances on March 18, 19, 25, 26 at 8PM and March 20th, 2005 at 2PM at the John F. Holmes Playhouse, 301 Boardman Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Dark Deeds is directed by Larry Clark, assistant director Roxanne McCabe, with an ensemble cast including Jack Schornick, Glenda Schornick, Kathy Mauffray, Lex Mauffray, Chris Flynn, Cheryl Grace, Libba Tallant, Sandy Reese, and newcomers to BSLLT, Annette Allard as the orphan heroine, Ken Wesley as the Englishman hero, Deborah Goudeau, Belle Penrose, Stephen Dardar, Bob Davis and more!

Tickets will be available at the door and also at the Bay St. Louis Chamber Of Commerce beginning March 15th. Reservations not required.

Western Swing, Traditional Cajun and Gypsy Jazz???

BY BENNIE
SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

The Arts Under the Dome concert series will present Louisiana's Redstick Ramblers on Friday, March 12 at 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church on 15th St. and 24th Ave. in downtown Gulfport. If you haven't yet checked out this venue, this could be the time to do so.

The Ramblers play a mixture of Cajun fiddle tunes, Western Swing, and traditional jazz of the 1920's and 1930's, and draw their inspiration from such diverse influences as fiddler Dennis McGee and Dewey Balfa, as well as jazz and country swing bandleaders like Bob Willis and Django Reinhardt.

With six regular members the band ebbs and flows adding special guest appearances by other musicians from tour to tour. For this tour the Ramblers are fiddler Joel Savoy, fiddler and vocalist Linzey Young, guitar player Chas Justus, drummer Glenn Fields, big bass player Eric Frey, and accordion, piano, and vocalist Wilson Savoy. Mandolin player Josh Caffery also joins the band. With the exception of Frey, all met in Baton Rouge while attending area colleges, and began playing together about three years ago.

All the band members come from a variety of musical backgrounds, contributing influences, and varied experiences. Savoy is the son of renowned Cajun musicians Ann and Marc Savoy, and Justice hails from a background of Memphis blues guitar.

The group played its first gig in Chelsea's Cafe in Baton Rouge. Soon they developed a following among college students and lovers of roots music. They have gone on to venues around the world including Lafayette's Festival International de Louisiane, the Festival Acadiens, the New Orleans Jazz Festival, the Rhode Island Rhythm and Roots Festival and the Deferlantes Francophones Festival in France.

3:30 p.m. and FAM

Movie: Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone

Director Chris 'Columbus' blockbuster 2001 version of the internationally popular J.K. Rowling story features Daniel Radcliffe as Harry, the young wizard in training. He finds himself the target of an unknown enemy while being schooled in the use of magic at Hogwarts. Rupert Grint and Emma Watson play Harry's young comrades. The expert supporting cast includes Robbie Coltrane, Alah Rickman, Maggie Smith and Richard Harris.

8:15 a.m. on AMC

This isn't the brooding remake that brought the Caped Crusader back into the public eye in the late 1980s, but a 1966 feature-length version of the campy 1960s TV series starring Adam West as Batman and Burt Ward as trusty sidekick Robin. All the high-profile villains — Riddler, Joker, Penguin and Catwoman — are on hand, teaming up to drive our heroes

8 p.m. on TAIN

Movie: The Hunt for Red October
The first — and possibly the best — of the films based on Tom Clancy's spy novels featuring heroic CIA agent Jack Ryan casts Alec Baldwin in that role. The true star of this 1990 adventure movie, however, is the perfectly cast Sean Connery as a Soviet submarine captain who sets off an international panic by defecting with his crew. Sam Neill, Scott Glenn, Richard Jordan and Joss Ackland also are in the sterling cast.

10:30 p.m. on USA

Movie: Sabrina

Julia Ormond stars as a woman hopelessly in love with the betrothed younger son (Grég Kinnear) of her father's employer. When he finally notices her, the older son (Harrison Ford) becomes concerned that his brother will break his engagement, endangering a business merger. So, big brother takes matters into his own hands.

8 a.m. on HALL

Movie: Escape to Witch Mountain
Orphaned siblings Tia and Tony (Kim Richards, Ike Eisenmann) have unusual powers that a sinister millionaire (Ray Milland) wants to harness for his own purposes. His chief henchman (Donald Pleasence) poses as their uncle, intending to capture them and deliver them to the boss, but a crusty, good-hearted widower (Eddie Albert) interferes. The 1975 Disney fantasy movie co-stars Denver Pyle ("The Dukes of Hazard").

Movie:

Return From Witch Mountain
Tony and Tia (again played by Ike Eisenmann and Kim Richards) return for a visit in the 1978 sequel to "Escape to Witch Mountain." This time, Tony is captured by an evil scientist (Christopher Lee), who manages to control Tony's mind. Tia receives help from a gang of Earth children to free her brother. Bette Davis, Jack Soo and Richard Bakalvan co-star.

Ashley Judd ("Kiss the Girls") graduated from the University of Kentucky with a degree in French.

Sandra Bullock ("Miss Congeniality") was a bartender and studied acting under Sanford Melsner while waiting for her big break.

James Garner ("8 Simple Rules") got his first professional gig with a non-speaking part in a Broadway play.

Sunday Best Bets

1 p.m. on ESPN IndyCar Racing

New drivers, reconfigured teams and a spruced-up schedule are among the story lines as the IndyCar Series opens its 10th season with the Toyota Indy 300 at Florida's Homestead-Miami Speedway. Former Champ Car driver Patrick Carpentier and 22-year-old phenom Danica Patrick join the ranks of competitors looking to unseat series champ Tony Kanaan. And, for the first time ever, the 17-race schedule includes stops at three road courses.

3 p.m. on 4-CBS College Basketball

An ACC title could be up for grabs today in Chapel Hill, and who better to reach for it than Duke and North Carolina. The Tobacco Road combatants put on another classic show a month ago in Duke's 71-70 win, in which the Blue Devils slowed down the pace to completely eliminate the Heels' vaunted fast break. J.J. Redick led Duke with 18 points, while Carolina's Sean May scored 23 and grabbed 18 rebounds. Duke has won 15 of the past 17 meetings in this series.

7 p.m. on 38-WB The Starlet

Forget "You're fired." The new most-dreaded phrase in reality television is "Don't call us; we'll call you," uttered by the artist formerly known as Mommie Dearest — Faye Dunaway. She's the head judge on this new competitive series, which puts 10 aspiring actresses through a boot camp of classes, screen tests and merciless critiques. The one who gets through without hearing "Don't call us ..." gets a part on "One Tree Hill" and more.

7 p.m. on TNN Movie: Carillo's Way

Academy Award-winning actor Al Pacino stars in this complex 1993 drama, based on two novels by Edwin Torres, about a Puerto Rican crime czar trying to go straight after his release from prison. Pacino is excellent in the title role, but a virtually unrecognizable Sean Penn steals the show as a sleazy lawyer. Penelope Ann Miller co-stars.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC Movie: Their Eyes Were Watching God

Oscar winner Halle Berry stars in this new drama based on a novel by Harlem Renaissance writer Zora Neale Hurston. Produced by Oprah Winfrey, who hopes the TV movie will turn people on to Hurston's work, it's the story of a strong-willed black woman in 1920s Florida, who refuses to let the small minds in her small town impede her quest for fulfillment. Ruben Santiago-Hudson, Michael Ealy, Lorraine Toussaint and Ruby Dee also star.

8 p.m. on HBO Deadwood

The new episode "A Lie Agreed Upon, Part I" kicks off the second season of the Western series. Bullock and Swearingen (Timothy Olyphant, Ian McShane) clash over Bullock's relationship with Alma (Molly Parker). A deadly shooting at Nuttall's is revealed to be the result of mistaken identity. Stubbs and Tolliver (Kim Dickens, Powers Boothe) await the stagecoach, which is bringing some new working girls and a blast from Bullock's past.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC Crossing Jordan

Jordan (Jill Hennessy) is at her desk doing paperwork when she becomes caught up in a "Rear Window"-like scenario, hearing through the building's vents what sounds like someone getting killed. Her boss, Dr. Macy (Miguel Ferrer), probes a murder with satanic elements. Jerry O'Connell and Kathryn Hahn also star in "Devil May Care."

Sunday Best Bets

1 p.m. on ESPN IndyCar Racing

New drivers, reconfigured teams and a spruced-up schedule are among the story lines as the IndyCar Series opens its 10th season with the Toyota Indy 300 at Florida's Homestead-Miami Speedway. Former Champ Car driver Patrick Carpentier and 22-year-old phenom Danica Patrick join the ranks of competitors looking to unseat series champ Tony Kanaan. And, for the first time ever, the 17-race schedule includes stops at three road courses.

3 p.m. on 4-CBS College Basketball

An ACC title could be up for grabs today in Chapel Hill, and who better to reach for it than Duke and North Carolina. The Tobacco Road combatants put on another classic show a month ago in Duke's 71-70 win, in which the Blue Devils slowed down the pace to completely eliminate the Heels' vaunted fast break. J.J. Redick led Duke with 18 points, while Carolina's Sean May scored 23 and grabbed 18 rebounds. Duke has won 15 of the past 17 meetings in this series.

7 p.m. on 38-WB The Starlet

Forget "You're fired." The new most-dreaded phrase in reality television is "Don't call us; we'll call you," uttered by the artist formerly known as Mommie Dearest — Faye Dunaway. She's the head judge on this new competitive series, which puts 10 aspiring actresses through a boot camp of classes, screen tests and merciless critiques. The one who gets through without hearing "Don't call us ..." gets a part on "One Tree Hill" and more.

7 p.m. on TNN Movie: Carlito's Way

Academy Award-winning actor Al Pacino stars in this complex 1993 drama, based on two novels by Edwin Torres, about a Puerto Rican crime czar trying to go straight after his release from prison. Pacino is excellent in the title role, but a virtually unrecognizable Sean Penn steals the show as a sleazy lawyer. Penelope Ann Miller co-stars.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC Movie: Their Eyes Were Watching God

Oscar winner Halle Berry stars in this new drama based on a novel by Harlem Renaissance writer Zora Neale Hurston. Produced by Oprah Winfrey, who hopes the TV movie will turn people on to Hurston's work, it's the story of a strong-willed black woman in 1920s Florida, who refuses to let the small minds in her small town impede her quest for fulfillment. Ruben Santiago-Hudson, Michael Ealy, Lorraine Toussaint and Ruby Dee also star.

8 p.m. on HBO Deadwood

The new episode "A Lie Agreed Upon, Part I" kicks off the second season of the Western series. Bullock and Swearingen (Timothy Olyphant, Ian McShane) clash over Bullock's relationship with Alma (Molly Parker). A deadly shooting at Nuttall's is revealed to be the result of mistaken identity. Stubbs and Tolliver (Kim Dickens, Powers Boothe) await the stagecoach, which is bringing some new working girls and a blast from Bullock's past.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC Crossing Jordan

Jordan (Jill Hennessy) is at her desk doing paperwork when she becomes caught up in a "Rear Window"-like scenario, hearing through the building's vents what sounds like someone getting killed. Her boss, Dr. Macy (Miguel Ferrer), probes a murder with satanic elements. Jerry O'Connell and Kathryn Hahn also star in "Devil May Care."

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

My Wife and Kids

After discovering his favorite old jeans don't fit him anymore, Michael (Damon Wayans) runs into a high-school buddy (guest star Terry Crews) who's looking good. Michael asks his friend for help in getting in shape, and the next thing you know, he's a huge, fitness-obsessed gym rat. Tisha Campbell-Martin and Noah Gray-Cabey also star in the new episode "Michael Joins a Gym."

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Gilmore Girls

After seeing Logan (Matt Czuchy) out with another girl, Rory (Alexis Bledel) wishes she hadn't agreed they could date other people. When she shows up at a Quentin Tarantino-themed party with a friend of Logan's, he admits he's not happy with the arrangement either. Emily (Kelly Bishop) faces Lorelai's (Lauren Graham) wrath after confronting Luke (Scott Patterson). Yanic Tuedale and Nick Holmes also star in the new episode "Pulp Friction."

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

Two deliverymen are slain in "Maligant," and the resulting investigation leads Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) to a pharmaceutical distributor (guest star Stephen Tobolowsky). He apparently distilled the curative effects of cancer-fighting drugs, causing the deaths of numerous patients who were expected to survive. The probe reveals a man's (guest star Richard Bright) role in his ailing wife's suicide.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

According to Jim

Jim (Jim Belushi) grows a mustache in response to a suggestion from an attractive delivery woman. Cheryl (Courtney Thorne-Smith) can't stand Jim's new facial fuzz and makes a change of her own in retaliation, dyeing her hair brown. Jim, however, loves the new look, so when Cheryl runs into the delivery woman, she asks her to give Jim some bad advice. Kimberly Williams-Paisley also stars in the new episode "The Mustache."

8 p.m. on 38-WB

The Starlet

Jaime Pressly guest stars in this new episode in which the contestants undergo some training in acting, passionate and seductive, with the help of some willing males. Then they learn the love scene they have to re-enact is the lesbian scene from "Fastlane," which featured Pressly and Tiffani Thiessen. This is too much for one girl, who comes close to bawling despite a pep talk from the actress.

8 p.m. on 49-PAX

Lie Detector

The laws restricting lie-detector evidence in a court of law don't apply in the court of public opinion. In this new series, polygraph expert Ed Gelb seeks the truth behind some high-profile stories by putting their tellers to the test. Among those lined up are Paula Jones, who accused former President Bill Clinton of sexual harassment, and a cousin of author J.K. Rowling who claims he's the "real" Harry Potter. Rolonda Watts hosts.

8:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Committed

When Todd (guest star Ron Fiacco Lee) pays more attention to Mami (Jennifer Finnigan) at dinner than to his new girlfriend, Natalie (Josh Cooke), suspects Todd is trying to set him and Natalie up. Worried that Natalie might be a better match for him than she is, Mami tells Natalie to date Natalie, just to be sure he's with the right girl. In the new "The Perfect Person" episode, Part 1, Part 2 airs Thursday.

Blind Justice

Ron Eldard stars in this new police drama — heir to the "NYPD Blue" line slot — as Jim Dunbar, a New York detective who refuses to quit after losing his eyesight in a shootout. He's in a new precinct and with two new partners: his devoted guide dog, and the not-so-devoted Detective Karen Battancourt (Marisol Nichols), who has a grudge against him because he had an affair with her friend, Rena Wilson. Frank Grillo and Rena Sofer also star.

Sea Coast Echo

March 8 - 12, 2005

March 6 -

Part of ESPN's extensive championship week coverage, the Big East Tournament continues with the second of three first-round games from Madison Square Garden, in New York, followed Thursday by the Big Ten and ACC tournaments getting under way. Friday's action is highlighted by Conference USA and Big East semis, and a big day on Saturday includes title games in the America East, Atlantic 10 and Big East, and semifinals in the ACC.

Dan Rather's own words and footage from the CBS News archives — some of it never aired before — tell the veteran newsman's story on his last day as the "CBS Evening News" anchor. CBS has plenty of material to mine for the tribute, as Rather has been there since 1962 and covered some of the biggest

An unusual glowing stone used by Lionel (John Glover) against Lex (Michael Rosenbaum) causes Clark (Tom Welling) and Lionel to trade bodies in "Transference." The switch gives Lionel the clear benefit, but he uses his newly acquired physique and powers to cause trouble with Lana (Kristin Kreuk) and others. Trapped in Lionel's former prison cell, Clark has to figure out how to literally get back inside his own skin.

Meg (Brittany Snow) prepares her graduation speech about the hope of the future as she and Sam (Arien Escarpeta) try to figure out the future of their rela-

As Super Tuesday approaches, the issue on the minds of the media in California is drivers' licenses for illegal immigrants. Santos (Jimmy Smits) would rather talk about health care, but he's being pressed to take a stand on the license issue. Hoynes (Tim Matheson) dodges the issue, while Russell (Gary Cole) dodges the whole state. Donna (Janel Moloney) becomes Russell's new campaign spokeswoman in the new episode "La Palabra."

You know what they say about dancing. It could lead to ... a broken engagement. A dance instructor is Kevin and Nicolette's (Taye Diggs, Christina Hendricks) client in "Going for the Juggler." A student is claiming that the steamy moves she learned from the teacher caused her fiancé to walk out. Michael Michele and Jon Seda also star.

Atlas
In the new episode "The Index," Sydney (Jennifer Garner) believes that Sloane (Ron Rifkin) is attempting to re-form the Alliance. This causes problems with Nadia (Mia Maestro), who doesn't want to entertain the thought that her father might be betraying the CIA. Speaking of fathers, Vaughn (Michael Vartan) learns a secret about his dad — and it's only the first of many. Angela Bassett guest stars as the CIA's director.

Movie: My Favorite Martian
Grown-ups old enough to remember the 1960s television series will get the most out of this 1999 big-screen remake, with its insider references to the show and the presence of the original Uncle Martin, Ray Walston, in a small role. Christopher Lloyd stars as the Martian who crash-lands on Earth and moves in with a TV producer (Jeff Daniels) until he can get his ship fixed. Elizabeth Hurley and Daryl Hannah also star.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC
Committed
In the season finale "The Perfect Person Episode, Part II," Nate (Josh Cooke) wakes up in a strange bed — Natalie's. Since he was drunk the night before, he can't remember what, if anything, happened, but he immediately rushes to Marni's (Jennifer Finnigan) side to tell her that nothing did. Tess (Tammy Lynn Michaels) receives an unusual request from the boy (guest star Evan Sapara) whom she's baby sitting.

8:30 p.m. on HBO
Dope Sick Love
This new documentary follows two drug-addicted couples as they pursue the junkie's twin holy grails: the fix, and money for the next fix. ### In Focus

Some winners on scripted series have become models, and others have become Donald Trump's assistants, but another set of contestants gets the chance for Hollywood fame as Oscar winner Faye Dunaway serves as a judge of "The Starlet," debuting Sunday, March 6, on The WB Network.

Actress Vivica A. Fox ("Missing") and casting director Joseph Middleton also gauge the contenders, with the eventual victor getting a role on the series "One Tree Hill" among other prizes. Katie Wagner serves as host.

Featuring recent Golden Globe Award winner Ian McShane, the ensemble cast of the revisionist Western series "Deadwood" returns to start the drama's second season Sunday, March 6, on HBO.

McShane gets some showcase moments right off the bat: His character, Sweeney, squares off with Bullock (Timothy Olyphant) over the latter's relationship with Alma (Molly Parker). Bullock also has other concerns, since a stagecoach pulls into town with some memories of his past.
